MADGE'S FEE BILLS

IT COSTS MONEY TO GET EVEN WITH CONGRESSMEN.

How the Expenses in the Pollard Breach of Promise Case Are Going Skyward-High Priced Barristers and Extertionate Pullman Palace Car Owners Must be Paid-The Hilmon Insurance Case Appealed.

WASHINGTON, March 17 .- The Breckinridge-Pollard breach of promise and se-duction case had a rest in court today but the sensational developments of the past two days were discussed in every public place. The day was spent by the attorneys on each side in consultation with their clients.

Among the people connected with the courts there is quite a little gossip and disenssion concerning the expenses connected most costly suits for both parties that has been tried here for years. There is on both sides an array of lawyers who are accustomed to obtain large rewards for their pervices. Judge Wilson has been considered the leader of the local bar. Mr. Calderon Carlisle, while a younger man, Is also an attorney of exceptional ability One witness for Miss Pollard was summoned from Colorado, and several from Kentucky, while heavy traveling expenses and council fees were incurred in taking the depositions, numbering about fifty. The stenographers' fees alone amount to nearly $1,000. While Miss Pollard is not supposed to have much money, she must have influential friends who are interested

More Trouble For Breck New York, March 18.—A Washington dispatch to a morning paper says: The final chapter of the Pollard-Breckinridge trial, rumor savs, will be a divorce suit. CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., March 17 .-Deputy Marshal Galey of Altman admits that he fired the shot which wounded Deputy Sheriff Allen, and gives the following account of last night's fracas:

lowing account of last night's fracas:

"Somebody had spread the report, around Altman in the afternoon that a force of men were coming to burn cur little town last night. Twelve deputy marshals were sworn in to assist in preserving order. About 7:30 I saw a wagon coming up the road with five men in it, followed by a man on horseback. Our little party of twelve commanded the suspicions looking strangers to stop. The request was complied with and the spokesman of the party told us that they were request was complied with and the spokes-man of the party told us that they were deputy sheriffs. We asked them to show their papers to prove the assertion. They refused to do so. I then said: "Gentlemen consider yourselves under arrest. At this Deputy Alien fired a shot and I raised my Win-chester and shot him. As soon as the first shot was fired a crowd of 159 men rushed from town and in a few minutes the six snot was fired a crowd of 150 men rushed from town and in a few minutes the six were disarmed. I have ample proof that Deputy Allen fired the first shot. They were all strangers to us and the arrests were made within the corporate limits of the town. We did not abuse the men and soon as we were convinced that they were legally appointed officers we turned them loose."

The miners at Alton loudly denound with the trial, for it is one of the the authorities for calling out the state militia. Everybody believes that a serious

OLD GLORY GOES UP.

FAR ROCKAWAY, N. Y., March 17 .- Con siderable dissatisfaction was manifested among the inhabitants of the village to day when several men pulled down the American flag from the flagstaff on the town hall and raised in its place a green flag with a brooze harp printed in the centre. The action of the men soon attracted a crowd of citizens, who demanded that the stars and stripes be replaced, but when a permit from the village president was shown the aper proved turned their. when a permit from the village president was shown the angry crowd turned their abuse upon the board of trustees. Within an hour after the stars and stripes had been hauled down they were floating again, but not on the same staff. It has been carried to the top of the bell tower, which is twenty feet higher than the town hall, and raised on a pole. The patriotic Americans propose to take the matter up and engage counsel to prosecute those connected with the affair.

Foreign nationalism in America, he said, must be kept in the back ground, and be made to give place in church and state to must be kept in the back ground, and be made to give place in church and state to Americanism. Saint Patrick teaches this lesson. Himself not a native of Ireland, he became a most thorough Irishman. His success in converting Ireland to the Christian faith was largely due to his prectical wisdom in adapting the lovable and accidental forms of the faith to the customs and traditions of the Irish, gaining the good will of kings and lords, attuning the harp to chant religion together with patriotism accepting the Brebon code, minus its paganism, as the new Christian customs and symbols what had herefore served as pagan tokens, but which was now purified and ennobled. If Sc. Patrick were a bishop in America today he would be the staunchest of American patriots, and the most loyal of American citizens.

One nationalism is and must be supreme to our civil and social matters, and that is American nationalism. On this condition has America admitted foreigners to clitzenship, No political segregation of ditizens on foreign lines can be allowed. It is wrong to have so-called Irish-American votes. No one should vote as an Irish man and seek an office as such. It is wrong in private life to cultivate the spirit of foreign nationalism.

DARK BLUE WINS

OXFORD CARRIES OFF BRITAIN'S GREAT AQUATIO RACE

Favorites From the Start, the Dark Blue Pennant Bearers Easily Win From the Discomfited "Cams." All London Turns Out to Witness • the Race -Young Griffs Mops the Floor With Ike Weir 'Till Police Stop It.

LONDON, March 17 .- Seldom has me anspicious weather greated the Oxford and Cambridge university boat clubs than welcomed them today, on this the oc-casion of the fifty-first aquatic contest be-tween the rival 'varsities. As has for a long time been predicted, Oxford easily won the race, this making the twentylighth time on which victory has perched on the dark blue pennant, thus giving her lead of five winnings over her sister university.

The start was made at 9:30 o'clock and a raction over twenty minutes later, the Oxford crew crossed the line at the old ship several lengths in the lead. Figuratively speaking all London turned out in honor of the day and the event, and no such a throng has lined the banks of the Thames for many years. Business on the exchanges and in the financial markets was mainly transacted by the clerks. The East End markets were deserted during the foremon, and costermongers and commercial mea, financiers and members of the aristocracy, were jostled together in the throng that in every style of equipage made its way toward the course. Everybody wore his favorite colors, those of Cambridge, however, appearing to be in the large majority. First comers began to select points of vantage as early as 6 o'clock, and two hours later the banks of the Thames from Putney to Mortlake were a veritable ocean of faces.

Every boat available had been brought into service, and lined the course, while many of the late comers were glad to have recourse to house tops and to hang on as best they could to the buttresses of the bridges. The Cambridge crew was the first to put in an appearance and it was received with deafening yells. The Oxonians followed ten minutes later, and the shouts were redoubled, Cambridge won toss and chose the east bank, while Oxford took to the middle south. Both crews took a preliminary spurt up the river and then returning to Putney bridge, smidst a scene of the wildest enthusiasm, he Oxford crew crossed the line at the

The wind was light, the water smooth, the sun shining, and all the conditions for racing were perfect. Cambridge appeared to take the water first, but Oxford was quick to follow, and before Hammersmith bridge, one mile and six furlongs from the start, had been reached, the dark blues were two lengths abead. At the lead mills they had gained a trifle more, but at the Chiswick hall, a mile distant, Cambridge had overtaken, them, and from there to chiswick hall, a mile distant. Cambridge had overtaken them and from there to Thorneycraft the race was pretty well neck and neck. The Oxonians, however, pulled out like yeomen, and at Barnes' bridge, three miles and five furlongs from the start, they were nearly thee lengths in the lead. Cambridge again spurted and gained a trifle but it was evident the men were distressed.

HE APPEARS SANE

GOVERNOR WAITE HAS COME BACK TO HIS SENSES AGAIN.

Agrees to Submit the Question to the Courts, Which Decide to Hand Down an Opinion Immediately. New Fire and Police Board Steal a March and Assume Authority, Which is Recognized by the Mayor But Not by the Police.

DETVER, Colo., March 17.-The disgrace ful row between Governor Walte and Messrs Orr and Martin, the removed members of the fire and police board, over the possession of their office, in which the state militia and federal troops took a prominent part, will be settled in the courts. The chief executive has submitted the controversy to the supreme court as his legal advisers have advised him to do ever since the trouble began.
It was Il o'clock today before he fully determined to take this course. When he began to seriously consider the proposi-tion yesterday he hesitated because he was afraid the affair might not receive immediate consideration, and it required a good deal of argument by his attorneys to prove to him that the supreme court would act on the case at once,

That they were not mistaken is borne out by the order made by the court just as soon as the matter was submitted to it. as soon as the matter was submitted to it. This order sets the case for argument at 2 o'clock Monday, and counsel are notified that they must have their typewritten briefs in the hands of the clerk of the court by that hour. A decision may be expected as early as Tuesday. The communication embracing the questions submitted to the court contains over 4,000 words. The constitute is simply this:

court contains over 4,000 words. The question is simply this:

Are Messrs. Barnes and Mullins legally entitled to hold the offices of fire commissioner and exercise commission of the city of Denver? The rest of the voluminous document is devoted to an argument to show that the supreme court should take jurisdiction in the case, in view of the dangerous situation now existing in the city of Denver because of the calling out of the militia and the armed resistence of Messrs. Orr and Martin to the state troops. There is no further danger of bloodshed now as the governor has agreed to abide by the decision on the supreme court.

now as the governor has agreed to abide by the decision on the supreme court. So far as this trouble is concerned, the militis has been disbanded, but the troops are being held at various armories await-ing the result of the minera trouble at Cripple Creek. The federal troops are still quartered in the Gettysburg build-ing momentarily expecting to return to Fort Logan.

Matters at the city hall were in a very peaceful state until late this afternoon.

Matters at the city hall were in a very peaceful state until late this afternoon, when Messrs Mullins and Barns, the governor's new appointers to the fire and police board, quietly elipped into the mayors office and took possession before anyone was aware they were in the neighborhood. They had met Mr. Rogers, a member of the old board, about an hear before this and organized. The first official step was to notify Colef Pearie of the fire department, and Chief Stone of the police department to report for duty, Chief Pearse went in and politely refused to recognize the antherity of the new board. Chief Stone refused to obey the order and the new board adjourned new board. Chief Stone refused to obey the order and the new board adjourned until Monday. As soon as it became known that the city had two fice and police boards, Wells, Taylor and Taylor, attorneys for the old members, Orr and Martin, made application before Judge Glynn for attachments for contempt of court for Messrs, Mulius, Barnes and Bogers, and also Mayor Van Hern, who formally recognized the new board. The contempt is against Judge Graham's now famous injunction.

I have not teen able to find an association that gives a race for yearling pacers. They all remember the yearling pacers. They all remember the yearling protes but the little wiggler is forgotten. A class for yearling pacers would fill well and the officers of the Southern Kansas circuit ought to see to it that there is such a race made.
